items. Of course, being business men, it comes natural to them to criticise such matters; but it is not often that discussion of so direct and intelligent a character arises upon the Estimates. Each subject as it arose appeared to have been studied by the unofficials, and soveral valuable suggestions were advanced, to which the President of the Finance Committee (Dr Stewart) gave a most satisfactory amount of consideration. There was about the discussion an air of strict attention to business, and that business, on the part of the unofficials, was the guardianship of the public purse. Several points, however, were not thrashed out-indeed, the discussion was necessarily of a desultory character; but as great things appear to be expected from the next Message from H. E.

the Governor, comments upon many of the points incidentally raised may be conveniently deferred until the appearance of that document. The Hon. J. Bell-Irving's remark, about the Victoria College being used for the next prize-giving, 'that this had been said for two or three years back,' was not only exceedingly true, but it contained a great deal of severe criticism in a very few words. The Hon. J. M. Price, however, was not present. Indeed, this irregular firing in the form of conversational debate appears to suit some of our unofficial members most admirably. Touching the expenditure on fortifications, Mr Bell-Irving's quiet remark, 'I suppose they will begin to send the guns when all is done, may prove as effective as a much longer speech would have been. Mr Layton was not behindhand in his desire to know all about where and how the money went; and his request that some account should be upon the Tytam Water-works was a most appropriate and necessary one. The Sur-

THE DRAINAGE BY-LAWS.

The Board resumed consideration of the laws. draft by-laws prepared by the special committee under sub-section 1 of section 13, of Ordinance 24 of 1887. Leaving bylaws 4 and 5 to be dealt with afterwards the Board began with No. 6, which, and not go and report, no more, than I would the succeeding by-laws down to No. 13, were passed without alteration.

By-law No. 13, read in the draft as fol. ination is held. lows :- 'In every case where a new drain is made to communicate with a public report. sewer, any cesspool previously existing, and into which such new drain may have previously emptied, shall be cleaned, deodorized and filled with clean earth.1

Captain Deane moved that the by-law should be amended to read as follows :--'In every case where the course of a new drain shall be diverted any cesspool proviously existing and into which such new drain may have previously emptied, shall be cleaned, deodorized and filled with clean earth."

The amendment was agreed to. The remaining by-laws in the first part, (relating to drains in now promises), were passed unaltered.

The Board then took up the consideration of number 4, which read in the draft BS follows :

 Except for the purpose of draining_ any yard or back-yard which does not admit of any other mode of drainage, no person shall lay any pipe for convoying subsoil drainage or rain water in such manner or in such a position as to communicate belonging to the wife of a Chinese priest, directly or indirectly with any sower, cesspool, or drain used for the conveyance of sewage only, and no person shall lead kong Sketching Club and the Camera Club | any subsoil drainage or rain-water into any

> Mr Ede moved as an amendment that No. 4 be divided into two, making separate bylaws for subsoil drainage and rain water. +2 Mr Price said he saw no objection to the amendment. Mr Price seconded Mr Ede's amendment, which was then agreed to. On the motion of Captain Deane it was agreed to re-number all the succeeding bylaws in accordance with this alteration. The by-law standing as No. 5 in the draft and now numbered 6-which provides that where a drain is laid through a wet or damp soil it shall be imbedded in lime concrete was passed as it slood. The preamble to the by-laws was then altered to read as follows:--- By-laws made by the Sanitary Board under sub-section 1 of section 13 of Ordinance No. 2 of 1887 for the proper construction of drains in new premises, and for the reconstruction or improvement under the provisions of section 50 of old or existing house drains found to be in a defective and insanitary

The Board then proceeded to consider Part II of the By-laws, the heading of which was amended to read-' Defective and insanitary house drains, the first word, existing being deleted. Mr Stewart Lockhart moved an amendment on No. 23, inserting the words in Chinese and English' after the word notice -referring to notice served by the Board on owners of house-drains found by the Board to require reconstruction or repair. Captain Deane pointed out that these were not regulations that applied to the whole Chinese population, like vaccination notices, for example. The notices in question would really only have to be served, as he learned, on some thirty contractors who had the whole of this work in their hands and who did it as a specialty.

Mr Price saw no objection to the amend-Captain Deane did not wish to press the matter, but he thought the 30 experts who would have to be served with these notices had a sufficient knowledge of English to enable them to know what the notices meant, and he was of opinion that it would be better to educate them up green buoy at Sam-sui-po, about 600 yards to our techincal phrases in English rather than let them drop down into their own Chinose phrases: still it was Coxon (Capt.) Maj. Churchill (Capt.) the vessel.

Dr P. Jordan-I am medical practitioner and Health Officer. I examined the T. E. Davies. Chinaman shot on board the Victoria. I found a bullet wound midway between the Dr Sparrow, R.N. lobe of the right car and the angle of the jaw. On examining it closer, I found bullet near the cartilage of the nose. made a small incision and drew out the bullet. I found it had injured some of the bones of the face and I got out two or three loose fragments of bone. I dressed the wound and sent the patient to the Hospital. I do not think he was in much pain. should say the marks on the buildt were caused by some other means than by its contact with the bone.

He knew that the defendant was in the habit of cleaning out his cabin and that boys might in fun pull the trigger of a revolver, as they unfortunately will sometimes do. It was most important for him to be sure that that revolver was unloaded. The first thing he ought to have thought of was the unloading of the revolver. The Colonial Secretary explained the increases under this heading, including eight additional European constables, ten Indian, and eight Chineso. The eight additional Europeaus were required on account of the increased population in the Hill district and Kennedy Town.

Hon. W. M. Denne said that part of this increase was nominal. Several of the men employed by the Registrar-General had now been transferred to the Police. Hon. P. Ryrie-Certainly the Police want

The Colonial Secretary said there was an increase here of $720 in the salary of the Superintendent. The Superintendent had pointed out that when he came out here he was informed he would have a house. He had not a house of the size he expected, and he could not keep his family in it. The result was that he had to keep up two houses. For that reason the Governor thought it was only reasonable that he should get an increase. The other increases had been seriously called for for a

Mr J. Bell-Irving asked if the 8720 additional was in lieu of the present house. The Colonial Secretary said it was not in lieu of anything. It was additional. Mr Ryrie asked if there had been an been an inquiry. Mr W. M. Deane said the matter was not finished yet. It would come before the Supreme Court, but some of the men were still too ill to allow of the case being gone on with as yet. The Attorney General remarked that the proceedings in the Supreme Court would be with references to the conduct of the accused, not that of the officials. Mr Rario asked if any carelessness had been brought out.
